Safety Management Services

Section 1 - Request for Proposal

I. Introduction

- A. NWF Health Network (NWFHN) serves as the Network Management agency for child protection services and substance abuse and mental health (behavioral health) services in northwest Florida. Our sole purpose is to provide the highest quality child protection services, substance abuse and mental health services to children, adults and their families within their communities through a managed network of accredited providers. We serve as a centralized source of resources and support for our community and agency partners. Our agency is far more than an administrative office, however. At NWFHN, we strive to develop relationships with our children and families so we can provide them with the individualized attention they need. At NWFHN, we believe that children have the right to grow up safe, healthy and fulfilled in families that love and nurture them and that the children, adults and elders in our communities deserve exceptional behavioral health services that meet their needs.

II. Statement of Need

- A. NWFHN seeks to use prevention activities to stop maltreatment before it occurs by creating awareness to the general public, service providers, and decision-makers about the scope and problems associated with child maltreatment. NWFHN seeks to provide services that are designed to help families resolve the pressing issues they face and gain the knowledge, skills, and resources they need. The goal is to ensure that families in the community are provided supports to strengthen parental capacity, improve family relationships and functioning, increase child and family well-being, ensure child safety, prevent the separation of children from their families, promote successful reunifications following a separation, and prevent future crises.
- B. The purpose of this Request for Proposals (RFP) is to define NWFHN's minimum requirements, solicit proposals, gain adequate information by which NWFHN may evaluate the services offered by Applicants, and as a result, enter into a contract with the successful Applicant(s).
- C. NWFHN is seeking qualified providers who can administer Safety Management Services in Circuit 14 (Bay, Calhoun, Gulf, Jackson, Holmes and Washington counties). Respondents may bid on all counties, multiple counties, or a single county.
- D. The term of the contract will be determined during negotiations with selected Respondent.
- E. Respondents to this solicitation or persons acting on their behalf may not contact, between the release of the solicitation and the end of the 72-hour period following the agency posting the notice of intended award, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and state holidays, any employee or officer concerning any aspect of this solicitation, except in writing to the procurement officer or as provided in the solicitation documents. Violation of this provision may be grounds for rejecting a response.

III. Scope of Service

- A. NWFHN has been contracted to provide services to children who are at risk of future maltreatment, abuse, neglect or abandonment with appropriate services to ensure the safety, permanency and well-being of the child while helping parents enhance skills and resolve problems to promote optimal child development.

- B. Under this Subcontract, Respondents are to provide Safety Management Services utilizing the Child Welfare Practice model. Safety Management Services are services that manages caregiver behavior and/or emotions or replaces caregiver responsibilities when caregivers are not able to protect or care for their children. Services are provided in an effort to reduce the occurrence or recurrence of abuse, neglect or abandonment, reduce the number of children entering court ordered supervision and reduce the number of children entering out-of-home care.

IV. Safety Management Services

- A. Safety Management Services, as outlined in CFOP 170-7 Chapter 8, defines different categories and types of safety management services that can be used alone or in combination. Respondents are asked to submit a proposal for one or more of the following categories.

- B. Behavioral Management Category: This category is concerned with applying action (activities, arrangements, services, etc.) that controls (not treats) caregiver behavior that is a threat to a child’s safety. While behavior may be influenced by physical or emotional health, reaction to stress, impulsiveness, or poor self-control, anger, motives, perceptions and attitudes, the purpose of this action is only to control the behavior that poses a danger threat to a child. This action is concerned with aggressive behavior, passive behavior or the absence of behavior – any of which threatens a child’s safety. The following are safety management service types associated with the behavioral management category.

1. Supervision and monitoring is the most common safety service in safety intervention. It is concerned with supervising caregiver behavior, children’s conditions, the home setting, and the implementation of specific activities in an in-home safety plan.
2. Stress Reduction In-home safety service provider (relative, friend, or formal provider) comes to the home to engage in activities that relieve family stress or funds are provided for immediate, concrete needs. The in-home presence also allows for continuous monitoring of family conditions and dynamics.
3. Behavior modification as a treatment modality is concerned with the direct changing of unwanted behavior by means of biofeedback or conditioning. Behavior modification as a safety management service is concerned with monitoring and seeking to influence behavior that is associated with present danger or impending danger and is the focus of an in-home safety plan. This safety management service attempts to:
 - a. Limit and regulate caregiver behavior in relationship to what is required in the in-home safety plan.
 - b. Influence caregiver behavior to encourage acceptance and participation in the in-home safety plan and to assure effective implementation of the in-home safety plan.

- C. Crisis Management Category: The purposes of crisis management are crisis resolution and prompt problem solving in order to control present danger or impending danger. Crisis is a perception or experience of an event or situation as horrible, threatening, or disorganizing. The event or situation overwhelms the caregiver’s and family member’s emotions, abilities, resources, and problem solving. A crisis is an acute matter to be addressed so that present danger or impending danger is controlled and the requirements of the in-home safety plan continue to be carried out. Crisis management is specifically concerned with intervening to:

1. De-escalate and halt a crisis.
2. Mobilize problem solving.
3. Control present danger or impending danger.
4. Reinforce caregiver participation in the in-home safety plan.
5. Reinforce other safety management provider/resource's participation in the in-home safety plan.
6. Avoid disruption of the in-home safety plan.

D. Social Connection Category: Social connection is concerned with present danger or impending danger that exists in association with or influenced by caregivers feeling or actually being disconnected from others. The actual or perceived isolation results in non-productive and non-protective behavior. Social isolation is accompanied by all manner of debilitating emotions: low self-esteem and self-doubt, loss, anxiety, loneliness, anger, and marginality (e.g., unworthiness, unaccepted by others). Social connection is a safety category that reduces social isolation and seeks to provide social support. This safety category is versatile in the sense that it may be used alone or in combination with other safety categories in order to reinforce and support caregiver efforts. Keeping an eye on how the caregiver is doing is a secondary value of social connection (see Behavior Management – Supervision and Monitoring, paragraph 8-2b(1)(a) of this operating procedure). The following are safety management services associated with the social connections category:

1. Friendly Visiting. Friendly visiting is directed at reducing isolation and connecting caregivers to social support. Friendly visiting can include professional and non-professional safety management providers/resources or support network. The child welfare professional will direct and coach any person responsible for friendly visiting in terms of:
 - a. The purpose of the safety management service.
 - b. How to set expectations with the family.
2. Basic Parenting Assistance. Basic parenting assistance is a means to social connection. Socially isolated caregivers do not have people to help them with basic caregiver responsibilities. The differences between friendly visiting and basic parenting assistance is that basic parenting assistance is always about essential parenting knowledge and skills and whomever is designated to attempt to teach, model, and build skills. Basic parenting assistance is concerned with specific, essential parenting that affects a child's safety. This safety management service is focused on essential knowledge and skill a caregiver is missing or failing to perform. Typically, this is related to children with special needs (e.g., infant, disabled child) and the caregivers are in some way incapacitated or unmotivated. Someone brought into the in-home safety plan becomes a significant social connection to help the caregiver(s) with challenges they have in basic parenting behavior, which is fundamental to the children remaining in the home.
3. Supervision and Monitoring as Social Connection. Supervision and monitoring occurs through conversations occurring during routine safety management service visits (along with information from other sources). Within these routine in-home contacts, the social conversations can also provide social connection for the caregiver.

4. Social Networking. In this safety management service, the child welfare professional is a facilitator or arranger. Social networking, as a safety management service, refers to organizing, creating, and developing a social network for the caregiver. The term “network” is used liberally since it could include one or several people. It could include people the caregiver is acquainted with such as friends, neighbors, or family members. The network could include new people that the child welfare professional introduces into the caregiver’s life. The idea is to use various forms of social contact, formal and informal; contact with individuals and groups; and use contact that is focused and purposeful.

E. Resource Support Category: Resource support refers to the safety category that is directed at a shortage of family resources and resource utilization, the absence of which directly threatens child safety. Activities and safety management services that constitute resource support include such things as the following.

1. Resource acquisition related specifically to a lack of something that affects child safety.
2. Transportation services particularly in reference to an issue associated with a safety threat.
3. Financial/Income/Employment assistance aimed at increasing monetary resources related to child safety issues.
4. Housing assistance that seeks a home that replaces one that is directly associated with present danger or impending danger to a child’s safety.
5. General health care as an assistance or resource support that is directly associated with present danger or impending danger to a child’s safety.
6. Food and clothing as an assistance or safety management service that is directly associated with present danger or impending danger to a child’s safety.
7. Home furnishings as an assistance or safety management service that is directly associated with present danger or impending danger to a child’s safety.

F. Separation Safety Category: Separation is a safety category concerned with danger threats related to stress, caregiver reactions, child-care responsibility, and caregiver-child access. Separation provides respite for both caregivers and children. The separation action creates alternatives to family routine, scheduling, demand, and daily pressure. Additionally, separation can include supervision and monitoring function. Separation refers to taking any member or members of the family out of the home for a period of time. Separation is viewed as a temporary action, which can occur frequently during a week or for short periods. Separation may involve any period from one hour to a weekend to several days in a row. Separation may involve professional and non-professionals and can involve anything from babysitting to temporary out-of-home family-made arrangements to care for the child or combinations. Separation services include:

1. Planned absence of caregivers from the home
2. Respite Care
3. Day care that occurs periodically or daily for short periods or all day
4. After school care
5. Planned activities for the children that take them out of the home for designated periods
6. Any arrangements to care for the child out of the home; short-term, weekends, several days, or a few weeks.
